City Appropriated $3,000 for Support of Heaton Hospital

The list of officers which appeared in Tuesday's paper was elected. In fact, when their announcement was made there were only about a dozen persons in the hall, the business having been completed and the most of the crowd having left for home. The first act of Mayor Mitchell after his election was to reappoint Chief P. J. Connolly as chief of police until the first regular meeting of the council. The city, by a vote of 859 to 212, voted to stand its part in the expense of establishing a tuberculosis hospital in Washington county.

The vote on the druggist issue was surprise. Probably the infantile paralyis epidemic had much to do with carrying the city in favor of a fifth-class li

Mayor F. W. Mitchell read the patriotic proclamation from Gov. H. F. Graham. This was followed by remarks by F. A. Howland, state director of the thrift stamp campaign. He spoke of the need poisoning of wells, all of which sis hospital-Yes 32, No 9. she has done; and many things too aw ful to speak of in public places. He told of a man who had returned from England who likened Germany to a mad dog that must be muzzled or destroyed, that the the front and when they are gone the children will fight the battles. If these are all killed then the spirit of those Calaishave gone will rise up and defeat the Hun. The statement brought a round of applause. He then told his audience that they can help by buying thrift stamps, which were on sale at the rear

All flags on the American and British men of war were half-masted during the service which was conducted by the chaplain of the American flotilla flagship. The coffins were placed in the center of the deck and each was covered with "Old Glory" while grouped about were several bluejackets. The reading of the funeral services over, the band from the flagship played "Nearer My God to Thee." the coffins were lowered into the ship's hold. All the time the service was in progress the civilian onlookers stood with bared heads. One of the bodies was that of Dudley W. Queen, surgeon on one of the de-stroyers, who came to the navy from Pexas and whose death is the first from disease since the arrival of the American forces over here. The other three were victims of accidents on board their ships. They were William Lusso, an electrician of Kansas City and Martin O'Callaghan and John Bourke, water tenders. There also took place the other day the first burial of an American naval man at sea from an American destroyer over here. He was Willis Martin Goodrow, a machinists' mate, whose home was in Charleston, S. C. He was killed in an accident on board ship and was buried in a U-boat infested area. One o'clock on a bright January afterroon was chosen as the time for the service. The body was placed in a canvas casket. Draped with the stars and stripes, it reposed on the after-deck of the ship while the bluejackets listened to the Episcopal prayer read by their commanding officer.
